Reviewer A:

The author needs to explain about the object of research, whether SMEs used as research objects already use AR? because the research discusses the perception of usefulness and perceived easy to use and trust for the product. this is related to the research objectives, if AR is not applied to the object of research (MSMEs) is it possible to do this research?

The author needs to add sub-chapters to make it easier for the author to find the desired results. The author also needs to add reasons and differences from this research with previous research or existing theories.

authors are advised to use a reference manager application such as Mendeley by referring to the writing procedure in JAM.

Reviewer B:

The author needs to add a summary of the research gap, a summary of the novelty of the research, the benefits that will be obtained from this research, and ends with detailed objectives to answer the conclusions.

The author is asked to provide reasons for selecting SMEs in Ngerangan Village.

the author is still lacking 2 more hypotheses in taking hypotheses when viewed from figure 1.

the authors were asked to add the characteristics of the respondents.

The authors were asked to add related previous research as a comparison. the author must discuss one by one the results obtained by applying the sub-chapters.

The author does not only write the results according to the research objectives, but the author needs to provide an explanation or argument about the results related to the object of research. if there are new findings the author can also add to this chapter.

Authors are requested to add chapter limitations.

Reviewer C:

add country name in affiliate.

The authors were asked to strengthen the statement about the use of AR in Indonesian SMEs.

add arguments or previous research on the ability of SMEs to apply AR in their business.

The author needs to add a hypothesis development chapter.

Authors are asked to add operational definitions of variables.

The author is asked to add the basics of taking hypotheses one by one, with at least 3 previous studies with one from a more recent year, try to use references from reputable journals. the author can put this addition in the chapter on hypotheses development.

Regarding the revisions made, for the hypothesis there should be 7, while in the picture it is also not suitable because there is H6 but H3 is not there, please correct it again and add a hypothesis that doesn't exist.
